

Hidden within the leaves of the aloe vera plant lies one of the most fascinating and satisfying, natural skin care ingredients: Aloe Vera Gel. This amazing gel has been known for centuries as a "beauty secret" sought after by royalty and nobility. Today, aloe vera is used within skin care preparations as a gel, liquid, and powder.

Set-N-Me-Free gathers organically grown aloe from Southern California, USA. Using minimal processing methods, the inner leaf gel is blended and filtered into a liquid that is used as the base ingredient for these products. The aloe vera liquid is always protected from heat that would damage the enzyme activity that is naturally so plentiful within the aloe vera plant. This enzyme activity allows for better absorption of ingredients into the layers of the skin.

Unrefined oils, like apricot kernel, borage, jojoba, castor, cinnamon, wintergreen, safflower, soy and avocado are obtained from the "first cold press" processor. Processors hold out adequate supply for Set-N-Me-Free before they ship their oils to the refineries. Acquiring the "first cold press" of these ingredients allows Set-N-Me-Free to provide the most natural skin care formulas possible.

We proudly manufacture high quality aloe vera liquid and specialty aloe skin care products using only the most meticulous techniques and care. These products are produced in small batches to maintain quality and freshness in every bottle.
